the world's leading designer and manufacturer of acrylic baths

Reece, Australia's leading name in bathrooms, is delighted to announce that it has been appointed as the Australian distributor of Hoesch.

The name Hoesch has long been associated with quality, longevity, design excellence and innovation. In fact, Hoesch has been creating beautiful baths for over 250 years from its headquarters in Germany. And it's this superior German engineering, together with its timeless designs, that ensures every Hoesch piece will last a lifetime.

Hoesch baths are intelligent combinations of aesthetics and function, with a great emphasis on luxurious design. So it is no surprise that some of the industry greats have aligned themselves with the brand - from Dieter Sieger, Philippe Starck and Sir Norman Foster, the world's leading designers have collaborated with Hoesch.

Says Belinda Geels, Reece Bathroom Marketing Manger, "we are thrilled to partner with Hoesch, an innovative company who are the world leaders in acrylic bath manufacture and design. Their constant innovation and understanding of form and function ensures they consistently deliver baths that are widely considered to be perfect."

Whether you select one of the exquisite freestanding baths, or perhaps an inset or sunken bath (which could easily be mistaken for a bathroom pool), a Hoesch bath promises to become the key statement piece in your bathroom.
