

Introducing the Metaphor, Chrystalline and X-plicit ranges from Alape

Reece, Australia's leading name in bathrooms, welcomes three new basin lines from Alape, Germany's leading designer and manufacturer of pressed steel basins.

The Metaphor, Chrystalline and X-plicit ranges have just arrived in Reece showrooms, bringing the total number of Alape ranges available in Australia to 10.

According to Belinda Geels, Reece Bathroom Marketing Manager, the new lines are expected to be embraced by the local design community. "Alape has proven to be one of the most coveted brands amongst our designer and architect clientele and we are thrilled to extend their range even further. The three new lines exemplify outstanding European design and also represent a new direction in basin design."

Alape pioneered glassed steel enamelling for basins in the 1920s. Every sink in the Alape line is pressed individually from a seamless sheet of steel before being fired with a rich glass enamel glazing known as Ceramostahl.

The technologically advanced material delivers a deep, perfectly balanced finish. The final result is a truly superior product crafted to the highest level of German engineering precision.

Introducing the Metaphor, Chrystalline and X-plicit ranges from Alape

Metaphor 700 Above Counter Basin

Chrystalline 450 Vanity Basin

X-Plicit 700 Shallow Vanity Basin

The Metaphor above counter basin represents absolute purity of design. With its effortless lines, the Metaphor basin is a statement in modern basin design.

The Chrystalline basin has been inspired by the crystal structure of rare rock formations. Precise lines and bold angles intersect in a unified vision, creating a breathtaking basin unlike any other on the market.

The X-plicit range of shallow basins demonstrates that beauty and simplicity are perfectly aligned.
