

New Italian designer tapware by Gessi

Reece is proud to present two new ranges from renowned Italian designers Gessi; Trasparenze and Riflessi.

There are times in life when a picture says it all and words are hardly needed. The launch of the Trasparenze and Riflessi ranges is one of these times.

The new tapware ranges feature captivating clean-cut edges and stunning chrome finishes.

Gessi is Italy's leading tapware and accessory designer and its products are admired around the world for their irresistible good looks and innovative function.

Belinda Geels, Reece Bathroom Marketing Manager, believes the designer ranges will be well received in the Australian market. "With an increase in demand for more European style fittings and furnishings, these latest products from Gessi are sure to make an impact," said Belinda.

The Trasparenze and Riflessi ranges will be available in Australia from December in Reece showrooms nationally. For further information visit www.reece.com.au.
